

The

CONNECTOR

the President's Message

Hope everyone is enjoying our lovely San Diego weather; now it's back to school and work.

Our next general meeting is September 9th at the Poolroom at 2:00 pm. Hope to see you all there, so that we can go over our legal status with the Secretary of State, Franchise Tax Board and Internal Revenue Service.

Now that schools are back in session, we must all be more diligent to follow the safety rules in the Park: the speed limit in Kearney Lodge is 5 MPH, and California law requires that we come to a complete stop when school buses are stopped with lights flashing, and pedestrians are in the crosswalks. We also need to be vigilant about children darting across the streets, especially as the days get shorter.

There were no "Best Yard" nominees in August. We do have four recommended for September so far. Remember that the first of each month is the cutoff date for recommendations.

Two of our key players are on the mend. Joleen is back editing "The Connector" and our treasurer, Nadine, is recuperating in Escondido from a bad fall. We wish them both a speedy recovery.

Rummage Sale REPORT

The KLCC rummage sale held on July 29th was a big success. We had approximately 20 residents participating in the sale. I hope all the participants were happy with their results. The weather cooperated and it was unseasonably pleasant for a mid-summer sale. In the future, it would be great if we could schedule our rummage sales in the spring and the fall.

How would everyone feel about a rummage sale /craft fair scheduled in November or December of this year? Since I work, if you could email me your thoughts on this topic before our next KLCC meeting on September 9th, I would greatly appreciate your input. My email address is joannechase@yahoo.com. I look forward to your comments and suggestions.

Jo-Anne Chase Brownwood

Thank you

everyone, for your prayers, visits, and assistance during my recovery from hip replacement surgery because of severe arthritis. The whole episode included a broken femur and a second surgery to change the style of implant. I spent several weeks in rehab before returning to my place; I have about three months before complete recovery.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

When you are a parent, it is up to you to remind children of the "rules" to which they ought to pay attention.

For instance, at school, a child gets in trouble for yelling in the hall. You tell the young person, "There are rules in school. You must not yell."

The child gets in trouble for yelling in the hall. You tell the child, "You must obey the rule not to yell in the hallway or you get in trouble."

First time behind the wheel of a car you tell your teenager, "Don't speed. It's against the rules." The list goes on.

Then you get your child in the car. You are going someplace, almost anywhere. The rules? You don't seem to care. You set aside your reason for the rules because you are too busy. Too busy to "obey the rules."

You must remember, your child is paying attention to you. They see the signs too. You know the rules. My cousin here has told me this news from the park, (sic) breaking the rule "SPEED LIMIT 5 MILES PER HOUR", happens more often than once or twice.

People walking on the streets are put in danger by you driving too fast. Sure, 5 miles an hour is pretty slow, but when we left my cousin's home, there was a person who was clearly driving more than 20 miles an hour.

One word from you to your child? "It's against the rules to yell in the hall, so don't." "It's a rule to drive 5 miles an hour in the park, but you don't have to do that." Silly, if not downright dangerous.

Thank you for your kind attention.

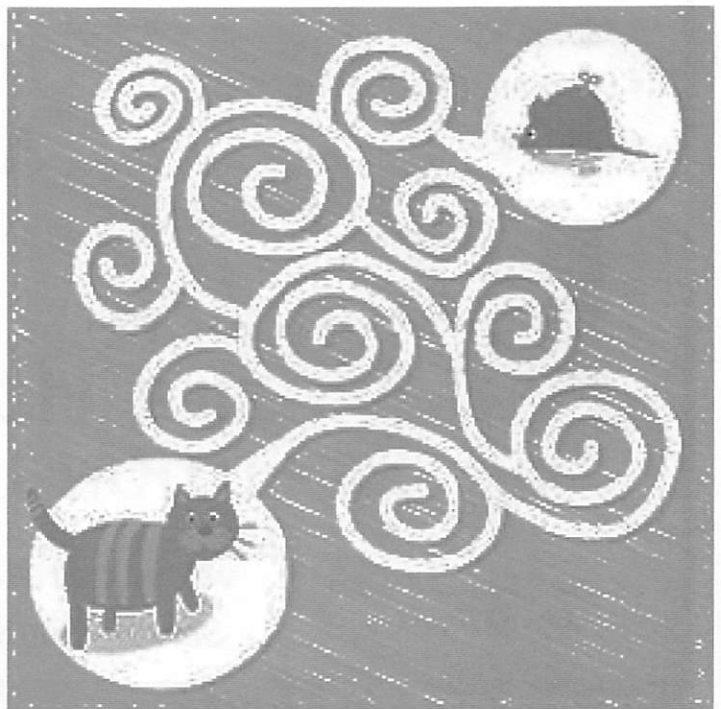

Thomas Norton (here visiting a cousin.)

NEVER GIVE A MAN A JOB THAT DOESN'T BELONG TO HIM.

After 10 years, the wife starts to think their kid looks kinda strange so she decides to do a DNA test.

She finds out that the kid is actually from completely different parents.

Wife: Honey, I have something very serious to tell you.

Husband: What's up?

Wife: According to DNA test results, this is not our kid . . .

Husband: Well you do remember, don't you? When we were leaving the hospital, you noticed that our baby had pooped. Then you said: Please go change the baby, I'll wait for you here. So I went inside, got a clean one and left the dirty one there.

Lesson: Never give a man a job that doesn't belong to him.

I read that 4,153,237 people got married last year, not to cause any trouble but shouldn't that be an even number?

Today a man knocked on my door and asked for a small donation towards the local swimming pool. I gave him a glass of water.

I find it ironic that the colors red, white, and blue stand for freedom until they are flashing behind you.

When living under clouds of adversity remember that the sun is still shining,

... such as leaving unattended small pets (not just dogs) out after dark to do their "business", even if your yard is fenced. Go outside and watch out for your pets. Remember, coyotes can scale a six-foot fence quite easily.

GETTING DOGS TO MIND

Does your dog bark at the merest of annoyances? The problem is easily solved. Just remember dogs have less cognizance than humans. Well, DUH!

Your dog will respond to your temper. Yell and the dog will pick up on the energy and respond; i.e., yell and the dog barks more. If you merely stand in front of your dog, TELL, not yell, it by this simple solution – SHUUUSH! Not a word, but a noise. It deflects the attention away from the dog's focus. SHUUUSH! Stand in front of your dog. Do not let the dog get past you. Step in front of the dog. When the dog settles down, DO NOT pet the dog. You are rewarding "bad behavior." Merely walk away. Do nothing. If the dog starts up again, SHUUUSH! And move to be in front of the dog. Do not let the dog pick up on the sense of your own temperament.

If you'd like more, watch Dog Whisperer – on NGW U-Verse; you'll have to search out the channels.

NEVER LEAVE BOTTLED WATER IN A CAR

A battery technician with the Idaho Power Company was on lunch break when he noticed smoke coming from beneath the center console of his truck. The culprit, he was surprised to learn, was a bottle of water. "I looked over and noticed light was being refracted through a water bottle and starting to catch the seat on fire," said Dioni Amuchastegui in a video shared on the company's Facebook page on July 13.

The evidence shows how dangerous leaving a plastic bottle in one's car on a sunny day can be: two burn marks were left on the seat of Dioni's vehicle.

Firefighters are warning drivers about the hazard, too. In a test conducted by Oklahoma's Midwest City Fire Department, sunlight magnified by a water bottle reached 250 degrees, news channel KFOR reports. "The sunlight will come through, when it's filled with liquid, and act as a magnifying glass as you would with regular optics," said MCFD's David Richardson. "It uses the liquid and the clear material to develop a focused beam and sure enough, it can actually cause a fire, a combustion," he said.

The risk of such a disaster occurring is low, but officials say taking your water bottle with you when exiting the car is the best way to prevent this type of car fire.

Choosing to deaden bad feelings eventually deadens our ability to feel good.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I hear a motor rev' and it's one with big mufflers. Loud. I see, maybe not so much in the Park; low riders and "dolloed up" cars with outrageous paint.

There is/was a study at a university – daggum, I can't remember which one – indicating all that is about:

1. inferiority complex;
2. Lack of self-esteem;
3. Need to be noticed.

There were several other reasons, but those three stuck out for me.

If you want to make a note of this for your paper, you can quote me, but anny-nony-mouse, please. Why? One of the noisemakers is a near neighbor.

Just thought I'd throw that up and see where it flies.

Likely to the dumpster, but now you know how I feel, and I'm sure our other neighbors feel the same way, but don't want to cause stomach gas.

USED BY PERMISSION FROM THE WRITER - A FRIEND

Editor

My daughter and grandkids came over the other day.

I wasn't home, but their grandpa was. Josiah - age 4 - had a frown on his face.

Grandpa asked why.

Josiah said he wanted an apple.

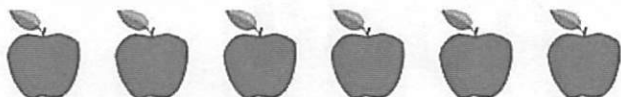

We have an apple tree, but the apples are small and I had told him that they need more water . . . so Josiah has been occasionally 'watering' the apple tree with his tiny water gun! He did that a few times. Then, the other day grandpa discovered from an unhappy Josiah that the tree didn't "grow" when he squirted it with the water gun.

Grandpa asked him if he'd like a 'cutie' - mandarin. Being upset and determined that only an apple would appease him, Josiah declined . . . but then said he guessed he "would" when grandpa offered to give him a nickel if he had the orange. It was juicy and sweet . . . and eaten rather quickly.

Then, Grandpa asked Josiah if he "grew" any taller after he ate the orange. The immediate answer was, "Of course not, Grandpa!" Then Grandpa told Josiah that it was true, it does take a long time to grow . . . kind of like the apples. They need to be watered for a long, long, time before they will get bigger.

You could see the lightbulb go over Josiah's cute little head! I love kids . . .

VINTAGE QUOTES

"In the garden, Autumn is, indeed the crowning glory of the year, bringing us the fruition of months of thought and care and toil.

And at no season, safe perhaps in Daffodil time, do we get such superb color effects as from August to November."

Rose G. Kingsley,

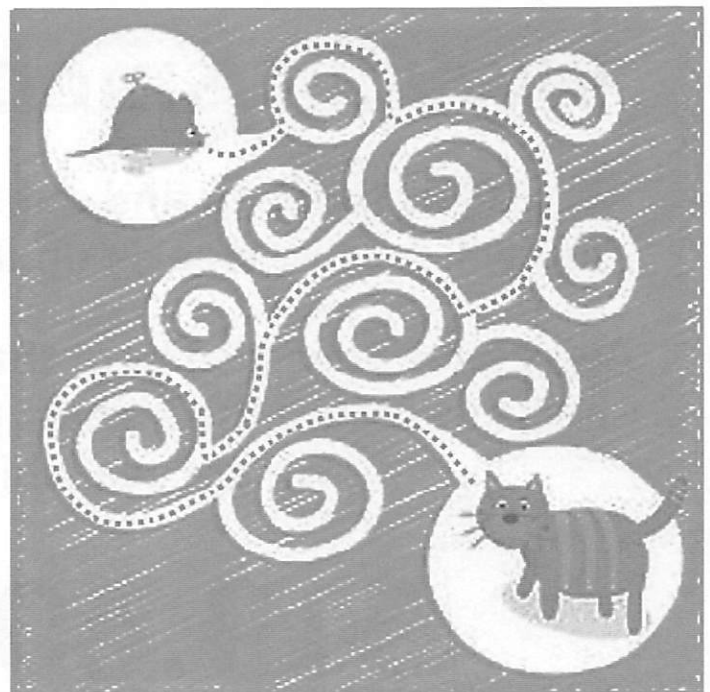

The Autumn Garden, 1905

"By all these lovely tokens September days are here, With summer's best of weather And autumn's best of cheer."

Helen Hunt Jackson,
September, 1830-1885

"The morrow was a bright September morn;
The earth was beautiful as if newborn;
There was nameless splendor everywhere,
That wild exhilaration in the air,
Which makes the passers in the city street
Congratulate each other as they meet."

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
