NATIONAL NIGHT OUT
enhances the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true
sense of community.

The City of SAN DIEGO

My hope for NNO is to reach our Community and let them see the Officers in a positive light. This event brings police officers and our community together in a fun setting and gives them the opportunity to get to know our officers and ask questions. It brings us to them, instead of them having to come to us.
Thank you, Andrea Oldakowsk

What a great day the 4th of July was!

And the winner of the $50.00 prize for best representation of the 4th of July is ISRAEL!

Thanks to all who attended our second annual KLCC 4th of July ice cream social! On this breezy sun-Diego day, 100+ America-proud residents, represented by 35 KL households, joined together in the spirit of community and country. All present received a free ice cream of choice to enjoy with others in the cooled, festive clubhouse. Most donned either red, white and blue, stars & stripes or American-themed apparel. Valerie wore a crocheted pancho-shawl & hat, Joe sported American flag pants; but it was Israel, son of Nelson, that won the "best representation of the 4th of July" contest for his custom-made outfit and decorated electric scooter, taking home the $50 cash prize.

While our foremost purpose was to encourage KLMHP neighborhood fellowship, this traditional gathering holds a revealed historic (& personal) significance to "we the people of the United States of America". We celebrate to commemorate the adoption of the Declaration of Independence (written by our colonial leaders) on July 4, 1776, to secede from the governance of Great Britain. Although it is long-time since, we must not forget those that patiently endured oppression, to then rise up and forge the freedoms we have long-since enjoyed as citizens of this great nation. I hope for us, in our time, that we also "hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain un-alienable rights, including life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness...And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor." Declaration of Independence, 1776

RICHIE'S

Yardcare

Hi! My name is Cyprien, and I'm 9 years old.

I'm learning how to play guitar and I really love it!
To help pay for my lessons, I'm collecting empty bottles and cans to recycle.

I do pickups every Thursday!

If you have bottles or cans you'd like to donate,
please leave them outside of your house, in a safe place and I'll come by to pick them up.

Every little bit helps me reach my goal—and it helps the Earth too

Thank you so much for your support!

Recipes of the month - Italian Chicken

Pastina Soup submitted by Debbie Reboloso

Ingredients

2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil

1 tablespoon butter

1 large onion, diced small

1 large shallot, finely chopped

4 stalks celery, diced small

1 large yellow bell pepper, diced small

4 medium cloves garlic, minced

8 cups low-sodium chicken broth, maybe more

1 pound carrots, diced small

1 parmesan rind, (optional)

1 ½ teaspoons kosher salt, more to taste

½ cup uncooked pastina, tiny pasta, double if you like a lot of pasta

2½ -3 cups rotisserie or leftover chicken

grated Parmesan, for serving finely chopped fresh rosemary and/or fresh thyme leaves

INSTRUCTIONS

Heat a large Dutch oven or soup pot or medium heat. Add the oil, butter, onion, shallot, celery and bell pepper and stir to combine. Cook for 4-5 minutes or until the onions are translucent, stirring occasionally. Add the garlic, stir well and cook for another 2 minutes.

Add the broth, carrots, parmesan rind (if using) and salt. Bring the mixture to a boil then reduce to a steady simmer and cook for 20-25 minutes (uncovered) or until the veggies are nice and tender.

Remove the parmesan rind, if you used one. With a slotted spoon, remove 2 cups of the diced veggies and set aside.

With an immersion blender (or a regular blender) puree the broth/veggie mixture in the pot until smooth.

*NOTE: If you use a regular blender, be sure to let the mixture cool down a bit before blending. Also, remove the center cap on the blender top and cover it with a clean kitchen towel or several thicknesses of paper towels. This will allow the heat to vent and prevent it from building up.

Add the pasta, bring the mixture to a boil then reduce to a steady simmer. Cook, uncovered for whatever the time on your bag or box of pastina instructs. (Acini de pepe takes 9 minutes.)

Add the rotisserie (or leftover) chicken and the reserved veggies. Stir to combine. Cover and allow the soup to rest for 20 minutes.

Taste the soup and adjust the seasoning, adding more salt if needed.

Serve with grated parmesan, a scatter of finely chopped fresh rosemary or fresh thyme leaves (or both) and fresh ground black pepper. Enjoy!

NOTES

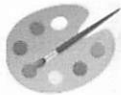

See Café Tips above in the post for more detailed instructions and tips to ensure success.

If you prefer to use Metric measurements there is a button in each of our recipes, right above the word "Instructions". Just click that button to toggle to grams, milliliters, etc. If you ever come across one of our recipes that doesn't have the Metric conversion (some of the older recipes may not), feel free to leave a comment and I will add it.
